tunity to comment on this draft and to recommend certain modifications and additions. Subsequent to this, DD/P Publications Control prepared another draft [REDACTED] on this subject but which failed to cover employees' benefits other than basic compensation. When asked to comment, SEA-DD/S took the position that the original draft prepared by the CSPO was the preferable of the two. It is our understanding that Mr. [REDACTED] has requested the Office of Personnel to review these two DD/P drafts and to determine if an Agency-wide regulation would be preferable.

7. Form 360 ([REDACTED] 1 n.) (Example Attached)

We have raised with the DD/P Support Officers the question of the usefulness of the Logistics Real Property Report (Form 360). The Support Officers do not seem to have strong feelings regarding this form; however, it is our impression that it does serve a useful purpose for those few properties which are leased or purchased by the Agency or assigned to the Agency by other Government organizations. Since these are the only properties for which present regulations require submission of the form, we do not feel that any change in the present requirements is required.
